Redefining the Surface Experience: Cambria to Showcase Latest Designs and Innovative Applications at 2026 Kitchen & Bath Industry Show

Featuring striking new designs, previews of future concepts, and an expansive array of alternative applications, Cambria is set to showcase the unrivaled versatility of its natural quartz in a high-concept KBIS experience

Le Sueur, MN (January 12, 2026) — Cambria, the premier producer of American-made natural quartz surfaces, will unveil a new, immersive booth experience at the 2026 Kitchen & Bath Industry Show (KBIS) in Orlando on February 17-19, 2026. Located in booth W749, the experience moves the conversation beyond the countertop, showcasing the unrivaled versatility of Cambria quartz designs across flooring, vertical surfaces, architectural features, and more.

“At KBIS this year, we aren’t just showing designs, we are showing a new way of designing,” said Summer Kath, Executive Vice President of Design at Cambria. “By bringing our quartz into the flooring and architectural wall space, we’re enabling a total-room aesthetic that hasn’t been possible with this level of durability and beauty until now. It is about creating a unified, high-performance sanctuary.”

New Designs on Display

The booth serves as the official KBIS debut for Cambria’s most recent design arrivals, each representing a leap forward in aesthetics, depth, and detail. To showcase their versatility, these designs will be featured in various vignettes, as well as a large-scale comparative display, presented in multiple side-by-side finishes. Here are key features of each design:

- St. Isley™: A bold design with dynamic waves of blue-gray veining, warm taupes, and dark accents, offering movement, contrast, and undeniable presence.
- Kenwood™: A soft, sophisticated offering that brings a sense of grounded luxury through its intricate tonal shifts.
- Claremont™: A design that epitomizes modern elegance, with crisp, flowing lines in a neutral palette that provides a tailored look for any architectural surface.
- Traymore Bay™: A refined tonal design that balances cool and warm. Flowing veins of white and gray create organic depth and texture.

Form Meets Possibility: Innovation Highlights

The KBIS booth will feature several “first-look” applications that demonstrate the evolution of quartz technology:

- A Showstopping Kitchen: This stunning installation is a master class in versatility and style. The expansive space elegantly juxtaposes modern innovation with classic touches such as a fluted St. Isley quartz design on the island base, curved-top cabinet doors, and an arched cooking niche with down-lit quartz shelves.
- The Wave Wall: A powerful centerpiece installation featuring the Rose Bay™ design. This sculptural feature uses custom-fabricated, curved quartz panels to create rhythmic peaks and valleys, proving that quartz can achieve an organic, flowing softness and visual movement.
- 1cm Performance Spa: A primary spa vignette clad in Cambria's ultra-thin 1cm surfaces from walls to floors and everything in between. This application highlights a grout-free aesthetic perfect for weight-sensitive wall cladding, showers, and modern vanities.

Collaborative Vignettes and Partnerships

The 2026 booth will feature high-end cabinetry from MasterBrand Cabinets, showcasing how Cambria's St. Isley and Traymore Bay designs integrate with premium Omega cabinetry to create a high-performance kitchen environment. Additional partner features include fixtures by Kohler, lighting by Hammerton, and furniture by Arteriors.

Education and Industry Trends

Media members are invited to hear Summer Kath speak at the adjacent International Builders' Show on Wednesday, February 18, at 4pm. Her session, “Design You Can Feel: The Trends, Materials, and Principles Behind High-Performance Kitchens & Baths,” will explore the shift toward tactile, high-performance luxury in the home.
